INTRODUCTION

The 1979 Indiana Judicial Report presents statistical information on the judicial workload of the Indiana judicial system, the expenditure of public funds on such system, and the revenues derived therefrom. The report is compiled and published pursuant to the provisions of IC 33-2.1-7-3 which, among other things, provide that the Division of State Court Administration shall collect and compile statistical data and shall prepare and publish reports on the nature and volume of the work performed by the courts.

The nature of the data collected from the trial courts is determined by the purpose and potential use of such data. Thus, the trial courts are asked to complete quarterly case status reports in which cases are monitored at two points, the initial filing of a case and its final disposition. The type of case and type of disposition (i.e., default, jury trial, bench trial, etc.) are further distinguished in order to provide a more accurate picture of judicial workload. The financial data reported reflects the total expenditure by each county on each court for an entire calendar year and the total revenues derived through the operation of each trial court.

The prime responsibility for completing the quarterly case status and financial reports rests with the trial judge, but he or she may, and often does, designate a staff member as a preparer. More detailed descriptions of the caseload and financial reporting procedures are contained in this report.

This report is intended to be used by the trial judges in evaluating their performance and monitoring the caseload in their respective courts; by trial judges and county councils in providing adequate funding for the trial courts; by the General Assembly and their Committees; and by the Indiana Supreme Court in carrying out its administrative functions over the judicial system. The information provided herein presents a continuous factual basis for any long-term judicial planning for the State of Indiana.

The 1979 report reflects the filings and dispositions of cases and expenditures and revenues of all trial courts of record. Beginning with 1980, the same data will be collected from the city, town and small claims courts.

The caseload reports of the Indiana Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals are prepared by the offices of their respective administrators and are reflected in this report. Both appellate courts are funded by state funds and have separate budgets. Their expenditures are also reflected in this report.

In order to aid in the understanding of the statistical information provided in this report, a description of the structure of Indiana's judicial system during 1979 follows.

INDIANA'S JUDICIAL SYSTEM

Pursuant to constitutional provisions, the judicial power of the State of Indiana is vested in a Supreme Court, a Court of Appeals, Circuit Courts, and such other courts as the General Assembly may establish.[1] The General Assembly has from time to time established other courts vesting them with specific powers. The Superior and County Courts are such legislatively created courts. The former have general trial jurisdiction while the county courts have more limited jurisdiction. Additionally there are city and town courts with even more limited jurisdiction. Specialized courts and additional tribunals with limited jurisdiction are found in the more populous counties.

SUPREME COURT

The Indiana Supreme Court consists of five justices, one of whom is the Chief Justice of the State (selected by the Indiana Judicial Nominating Commission).[2]

The Supreme Court has no original jurisdiction except in (a) admission to the practice of law; (b) discipline and disbarment of those admitted; (c) unauthorized practice of law; (d) discipline, removal, and retirement of judges; and (e) exercise of jurisdiction by other courts.

Its appellate jurisdiction includes appeals from judgments imposing a sentence of death, life imprisonment or imprisonment for a term greater than 10 years; cases where a state or federal statute has been declared unconstitutional; appeals from denial of release in habeas corpus cases arising out of criminal, extradition or mental health proceedings; and, on petition, cases involving substantial questions of law, great public importance, or emergencies.[3]

The justices are appointed by the Governor after nomination by a Judicial Nominating Commission. After an initial two-year term, they run on a "Yes--No" retention ballot, and, if successful, they then serve ten-year terms.

COURT OF APPEALS

The Court of Appeals became a constitutional court under a 1970 revision of the Constitution. The Judicial Article provides that the state be divided into geographic districts by the General Assembly, and that each district have three judges.[4] Presently, the court has four districts, with a total of twelve judges.[5] The twelve judges select one of their number as Chief Judge, and each district elects a presiding judge.[6] The Court of Appeals has no original jurisdiction except as authorized by Supreme Court rules to review directly final decisions of certain administrative agencies.[7] It has jurisdiction over all appeals not taken to the Supreme Court.

The judges of the Court of Appeals are selected in the same manner as the Supreme Court Justices.

CIRCUIT COURTS

The Indiana Constitution directs that the state be divided into several circuits by the General Assembly and that a judge be elected for each circuit.[8] Eighty-four, of a total of ninety-two counties, each constitute a circuit, while the remaining eight counties are in four "joint" circuits with two counties each.

The Circuit Courts are vested with unlimited trial jurisdiction in all cases, except when exclusive or concurrent jurisdiction is conferred upon other courts. They also have appellate jurisdiction over appeals from City and Town Courts[9] and, in Marion County, from the Small Claims Courts.[10]

The Circuit Courts in twenty counties are required to maintain a small claims docket where civil claims of $1,500 or less and possessory actions between landlord and tenant, where the rent does not exceed $500 per month, may be filed. A litigant on the small claims docket need not be represented by an attorney because the trials are held in an informal atmosphere.[11] In the remaining counties, the small claims dockets have been established either in the Superior or County Court in the county. The caseload on the former small claims dockets is usually referred to as the "County

SUPERIOR COURTS

Superior Courts are created by the General Assembly one at a time as local judicial needs change. Though their organization and jurisdiction may vary from county to county, for the most part, they are courts of general jurisdiction. They have the same appellate jurisdiction as Circuit Courts over appeals from City, Town and Small Claims Courts.

There are ninety judges serving the Superior Courts of thirty-five counties. Seventeen of these counties have more than one such court or division. Ten of the thirty-five counties have one unified Superior Court with two or more judges. Nine counties have their small claims divisions within the Superior Court (Allen, Cass, DeKalb, Hendricks, Miami, Monroe, St. Joseph, Vanderburgh and Warrick Counties. In Hendricks, Monroe and Vanderburgh Counties civil cases of up to $3,000 may be filed on the superior court small claims docket.) Allen, St. Joseph and Vanderburgh Superior Courts have minor offenses dockets for all misdemeanors, Class D felonies, ordinances and infractions. The superior courts in the remaining six counties have similar offenses dockets but they do not handle Class D felonies.[12]

PROBATE COURT (St. Joseph County)

The St. Joseph Probate Court is the only specialized Probate Court left in Indiana.[13] The Court has one judge and has original jurisdiction in all matters pertaining to the probate of wills, appointment of guardians, assignees, executors, administrators and trustees, settlements of incompetents' estates and adoptions.[14] The court also has exclusive juvenile jurisdiction.[15]

MUNICIPAL COURT (Marion County)

The territorial jurisdiction of the Marion County Municipal Court extends to the City-County consolidation of Indianapolis-Marion. The court has 15 judges, 14 of whom are trial judges, and 1 a presiding judge. It has concurrent jurisdiction with the Criminal Court in all Class D felonies, misdemeanors, infractions, and over local ordinance violations. The court's civil jurisdiction is concurrent with the Superior and Circuit Courts in all civil cases founded on contract or tort which do not exceed $12,500, and, irrespective of the value of property, in possessory actions between landlord and tenant.[16]

Appeals in civil cases are taken to the Court of Appeals,[17] while appeals of criminal cases are taken to the Court having general criminal jurisdiction in Marion Courts (Marion Superior) and are tried on the record.[18]

COUNTY COURTS

In 1975, the General Assembly created a new system of County Courts to replace the Justice of the Peace Courts.[19] The County Courts began operating on January 1, 1976, when the majority of the Justice of the Peace Courts went out of existence. There are sixty-five County Court Judges in seventy-one courts, serving fifty-two counties, with some counties sharing a court, and others having more than one.

The County Court has original and concurrent jurisdiction in all civil cases founded in contract or tort where the damages do not exceed $3,000, possessory actions between landlord and tenant where the rent does not exceed $500 per month, all actions for the possession of property where the value of the property sought to be recovered does not exceed $3,000, Class D felonies, misdemeanor and infraction cases, violations of local ordinances and surety of the peace cases.[20] The County Court also has a small claims docket like that of the Circuit Court.[21]

The County Courts have been specifically precluded from exercising any jurisdiction over cases involving injunctive relief, partition of, or liens on, real estate, paternity, juvenile matters, probate, receivership or dissolution of marriage. It may conduct preliminary hearings in felony cases.[22]

Appeals from the County Court, including its small claims docket, go to the Court of Appeals in the same manner as appeals from the Circuit or Superior Court.

CITY COURTS

With the reorganization of Indiana's lower court structure, city courts were to be abolished as of 12/31/79. A 1978 legislative amendment,[23] however, now provides for the extension of such courts until December 31, 1983, if the city adopts an ordinance for such continuation. A city which exercises this option must give notice to that effect to the office of State Court Administration.

The exception to these provisions is that city courts in second-class cities, in counties with population in excess of 500,000 (Lake County) are not abolished.

There are a total of fifty city courts in Indiana with varied jurisdiction depending on the city's classification.

The city courts in cities of the second, third, fourth and fifth-class (Indianapolis is the only first-class city and has no city court) have jurisdiction in all misdemeanor and infraction cases.[24] The courts also have jurisdiction over violations of city ordinances.[25]

In second, third and fourth-class cities, city courts have jurisdiction of civil claims of up to $500. Courts in fourth-class cities which are not county seats have jurisdction over civil claims of up to $1,000.[26] In counties having three or more second-class cities (Lake County) the civil jurisdiction of the city courts includes claims of up to $2,500. They have criminal jurisdiction of all state law violations, but they may only assess a penalty of a fine up to $1,000 and/or imprisonment for one year.[27] City courts in fourth and fifth-class cities, not county seats, having an assessed valuation in excess of $26,000,000, situated in a township having two or more second-class cities (Whiting is the only such city) also have higher civil jurisdiction of claims up to $1,000.[28]

Appeals from city courts (except those in Lake County) are taken to the Circuit or Superior Court and tried de novo.[29] Appeals from the city courts in second-class cities in Lake County are also taken to the Circuit or Superior Courts but are tried on assignment of error as in the Court of Appeals.[30]

TOWN COURTS

Town courts are established by an ordinance of the town board of trustees.[31] As in the case of the city courts, town courts were to be abolished on December 31, 1979, and could not be created after such date. A 1978 legislative amendment,[32] however, allows the town to extend their existence until December 31, 1983, if the town board adopts an ordinance to that effect. A town which has exercised this option must give notice to the division of State Court Administration.[33] There are twenty town courts operating in Indiana. They have jurisdiction coextensive with the county over town ordinance violations and state law violations for which the penalty cannot exceed a fine of $500 and/or six months imprisonment.[34]

Appeals from judgment of any town court are taken to the superior or circuit court of the county and tried de novo.[35]

SMALL CLAIMS COURTS (Marion County)

The Marion County Small Claims Court has eight divisions based on township lines and has territorial jurisdiction throughout the county. The court's trial jurisdiction is concurrent with the Circuit, Superior and Municipal Courts in all civil cases founded on contract or tort in which the claim does not exceed $1,500,[36] in actions for possession of property where the value of the property sought to be recovered does not exceed $1,500, in possessory actions between landlord and tenant in which the past due rent at the time of filing does not exceed $1,500,[37] and cases requesting surety of the peace.[38] The Small Claims Court has no jurisdiction in actions seeking injunctive relief or involving partition of real estate, or to declare or enforce any lien thereon (with certain exceptions), or in cases in which the appointment of a receiver is asked, or in suits for dissolution or annulment of marriage.[39] The Small Claims Court is not a court of record,[40] and the appeals are tried de novo in the Circuit or Superior Courts[41].

CASELOAD OF TRIAL COURTS

The trial court caseload data reflected herein was reported by the trial courts on a standard form (Quarterly Case Status Report) on a quarterly basis. These reports contain information on the cases filed (including those that come on a change of venue), disposed and pending at the end of the reporting period. This information is categorized by type of case, such as criminal, civil, dissolution, etc. The reports also show the method of disposition for the type of cases. Other matters, such as number of days with Judges Pro Tempore, number of trials disposed by Special Judges, number of cases heard or disposed by Masters, the use of Court Commissioner or Referee, and the number of days the Judge served in another County are also reported but are not reflected in this report. The information submitted on a quarterly basis has been combined and is presented here as yearly totals.

The reports are divided into two sets, Caseload of the Circuit and Superior Courts (including the Marion County Municipal, Juvenile, Probate and Criminal Courts, and the St. Joseph Probate Court) and Caseload of the County Courts. The latter set includes the cases filed in the small claims and misdemeanor dockets of the Circuit and Superior Courts, where such dockets exist. This caseload is referred to as "County Court Function" of the Circuit and Superior Courts.

As used in this report, the following definitions apply:

Criminal: This includes both misdemeanors and felony cases. Where multi-defendants are jointly charged and tried, only one criminal case is noted.

Re-Docketed Criminal: This includes those criminal matters which are re-opened after an initial judgment is entered. An example of this type of case would be a proceeding under Post Conviction Remedy Rule 1.

Juvenile: This includes all juvenile matters where formal proceedings are initiated and such proceedings concern a minor.

Civil: This includes all civil cases other than dissolution, probate, adoption, or guardianship cases. In the County Courts and the "County Court Function" of the Circuit and Superior Courts, small claims are reported separately.

Re-Docketed Civil: Those civil matters which for some reason are again brought before the court following the entry of the initial judgment.

Dissolution: Cases where the parties seek to dissolve a marriage.

Re-Docketed Dissolution: Dissolution cases where the cause is brought before the court after the initial judgment. This would include petitions to modify and contempt citations.

Probate-Adoption: Those proceedings involving the distribution of estates or adoption of children. This would not include claims against an estate which are litigated; such matters are shown as "civil" cases. Non-Felony Traffic: Cases where a traffic citation was issued.

Guardianship: This involves such matters as where a guardianship is opened under existing law of the state.

Others: This category is intended to include matters where an adjudication is made, but the full formalities of a trial are not involved. This would include probable cause determinations and committment proceedings.

Also, this column indicates only the cases as initially distributed; it does not include those instances in which transfers of cases occur between Justices, where the Justice to whom the case was initially distributed cannot obtain a majority in support of his original draft of opinion, nor where cases are redistributed to equalize the caseload between Justices.

Pursuant to Internal Rules of Court, in the distribution of Direct Appeals, the Chief Justice is skipped every 3rd Round in such distribution.

In addition, 5 Opinions Per Curiam were issued by the Court in Disciplinary Cases and not attributable to any one Justice's office.

FISCAL REPORT

In addition to mandating the office of State Court Administration to collect statistical data on the judicial work of the courts in this State, the Indiana Legislature has further required this office to collect and publish information on "the receipt and expenditure of public moneys by and for the operation of the courts."[1] Pursuant to this directive and to Administrative Rules promulgated by the Indiana Supreme Court, this office has designed financial report forms which are completed by every trial court in the State.

The requested financial data is collected on an annual basis after the end of the calendar year. Such requested data includes the trial court's requested and approved budgets for 1980, the actual expenditures for 1979, and the revenues collected during 1979 through the operation of the courts.

Following is a summary of the 1979 expenditures of the trial courts and revenues generated through their operation.

1) IC 32-2.1-7-3(b)

EXPENDITURES

The Indiana trial courts and related offices are supported primarily by county funds. State funds are used for a portion of the judges'[2] and prosecutors'[3] salaries and reimbursements to the county for special judge costs.[4] Occasionally, the trial courts use revenue-sharing funds and federal grant moneys, but such sums are usually insignificant in comparison with county expenditures.

Within twenty days following the end of a calendar year, each trial court is requested to submit a report on the actual expenditures of the court. The reporting form follows accounting reports filed with the State Board of Accounts and deals with five major areas: Personal Services, Contractual Services, Supplies, Current Charges and Properties. Each of these areas contains more information on specific items.

In some of the more populous counties, separate budgets may be maintained for probation, juvenile services or public defense. When available, these expenditures have been included in the final totals.

Expenditures which have not been included in this report are those that are not budgeted for within the court's budget. Thus, expenses for the prosecutor and clerk of the county (which offices submit and operate their own budgets) are not included in this report. The acquisition and operation of physical facilities for juveniles (juvenile dentention centers), when distinguishable from temporary juvenile care, have also been excluded since such expenditures fall more appropriately under corrections-related expenditures rather than judicial functions.

REVENUES

The typical sources of revenues in the trial court are filing fees and fines. The fines and forfeitures are designated for a special state fund, the Common School Fund.[5] Following is a list of the fees collected in the more typical cases.

1. The docket fee in civil cases in Circuit, Superior, Probate[6] and Municipal[7] Courts, and on the plenary docket of the County Court,[8] is twenty-three dollars ($23). Seven dollars ($7) of that sum go to the state as state docket fee, six dollars ($6) are deposited with the county general fund as clerk's service fee, and ten dollars ($10) constitute advance payment of costs for service of process by registered or certified mail. If such service is not effective, an additional ten dollar ($10) fee is charged for service of process by the sheriff.[9]

The docket fee for civil cases on the small claims dockets of the Circuit, Superior, and County Courts is ten dollars ($10) and goes to the county.[10]

2. In criminal cases filed in the Circuit, Superior and Probate Courts, a ten dollar ($10) fee is charged upon conviction, which fee goes to the County General Fund.[11] In criminal cases in the Marion Municipal Courts a docket fee of fifteen dollars ($15) is charged. If the case involves a violation of an ordinance the fee is deposited in the city general fund. Fees from other criminal cases are deposited in the county general fund.[12]

3. A prosecutor's fee of eighteen dollars ($18) is charged in all criminal cases. Four dollars ($4) of this fee go to the county, and the remainder goes to the state (where it is earmarked for special funds). In cases involving Class A misdemeanors or felonies, the prosecutor's fee is $28.50. It is distributed as the fee of eighteen dollars ($18) with the additional $10.50 going to crime compensation funds (ten dollars ($10) for the violent crime fund and fifty cents ($ .50) for rape victim services.)[13] When the prosecutor is required to appear in non-criminal cases, twenty dollars ($20) is collected and deposited with the State General Fund as "state counsel fees".[14]

4. In addition to the above fees, in any case in the Circuit, Superior, Probate and Municipal Court, and on the plenary docket of the County Court, a judicial fee of nine dollars ($9) is charged and paid to the state.[15] (Of this fee, $1.30 is deposited in a special retirement fund.) The judicial fee in cases on the criminal docket of the County Court, or the misdemeanor dockets of the Circuit and Superior Courts is one dollar ($1).[16]

This report reflects the fees listed above, service of process fees and jury fees.

The report also includes the revenues collected through the three dollar ($3) fee charged in all traffic cases for the Bureau of Motor Vehicles[17], and the ten dollar ($10) fee charged for enforcement of support orders.[18] It does not reflect the sums paid into the County General Fund by other counties for cases coming to the court on a change of venue. In counties which are adjacent to the more populous counties and thus receive many cases on change of venue, this amount could be considerable.

5. Courts having misdemeanor jurisdiction may establish alcohol and drug service programs pursuant to special guidelines. When such a program has been established, the court may set an additional fee of not less than one dollar ($1) or more than five dollars ($5) which is added as part of the costs in all cases involving violations of state law or city ordinances filed in the county. This fee, when collected, is deposited in a special alcohol and drug services program fund.[19]

There are many other fees collected during the course of a proceeding. Such fees are not enumerated above but should be reflected in the "other" category of the report.
